

Adolf Hitler Calls on German People To Follow Patriotic Spirit of Paul VonHindenburg

VON HINDENBURG FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

German President's Body En Route To Tannenberg

By Walter E. Brockmann
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Neudeck, Germany, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The German people were called upon today by Chancellor Hitler to follow the patriotic spirit of Paul Von Hindenburg in death as they followed and idolized the man in life.

Speaking at a Memorial service before the German Reichstag, the man who assumed the powers of the dead president declared that "honestly and with his whole heart" the old warrior desired peace for his people.

This brief reference to the future was the only portion of the speech which in any way touched upon Hitler's policies as sole ruler of the nation, now that Von Hindenburg's hand is still.

The political discussion which some had expected Hitler would enter into as a reassurance to the world, was omitted from the speech.

Hitler left late in the afternoon for Tannenberg in East Prussia where tomorrow he will speak again at the national funeral for the president.

Future Course
Whether he will again confine himself to praise of the dead man's career was not known, the possibility existing that he might speak of his future course in government.

"As fate has designated us to continue to lead the Reich and its people," Hitler said today, "we can only pray to almighty God that He may vouchsafe success in our labors and struggles for the happiness of the world."

"May He also give us strength at all times to stake our lives for the freedom of our people and the honor of the German nation."

"May He especially, in His mercy, let us find the right way for securing the boon of peace for our people to shelter it from the misfortune of war. Just as the deceased one has ever wanted it, honestly and with his whole heart."

"Deputies of the German Reichstag, men and women of the German people:
"In this consecrated hour I implore you all now to look beyond this transitory moment into the future.
"Let the strong realization enter our hearts."

"The Herr Reichspräsident field marshal general Von Hindenburg is not dead. He lives."

"For in dying he now moves above us x x x surrounded by the great spirits of the past as an eternal patron and protector of the German Reich and the German nation."

East Prussian farmers, who flocked by the thousands to the route traversed by the cortege, showed deep emotion at the passing of their "liberator," whose body will lie in the monument at Tannenberg which was erected in memory of his victory over the invading forces.

At 9 p. m. the casket had been carried down the staircase of the Neudeck home by four officers of regiments which by old association were closest to the old field marshal.

A brief benediction service was conducted by the pastor of the local church where the president worshipped.

Only relatives, old servants and a few close personal friends followed the coffin on the first stage of its seven-hour journey.

Tomorrow morning a great crowd—predicted to number more than 200,000—will gather at Tannenberg for the national funeral at which Chancellor Hitler will deliver the oration.

After the services as many persons as possible will be given an opportunity to pass before the casket before it is finally laid away in a tower of the memorial.

MRS. K. G. GORDON IS SAVED FROM POTTER'S FIELD

Once Wealthy Woman Charity Patient In Hospital

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Two friends averted today a potter's field burial for Mrs. Katherine Rigo Gordon, 55, widow of Prince Rigo, famous violinist, with whom she once toured Europe accompanied by 40 servants.

For nearly a day after her death the body lay unclaimed in a hospital. Then Frank Patch, an acrobat and Mary Davis, both of New York, arranged to have the remains taken to a funeral chapel.

Taken to a hospital charity ward from her squalid tenement rooms, Mrs. Gordon died Sunday, penniless and alone. Nothing remained of the fortune which had enabled her to achieve a colorful, glamorous life on two continents.

With her in death she carried the secret of her origin or her parentage, the place and date of her birth. She was reported to be the daughter of a former Yale professor, but the university records do not show any instructor of that name.

Emil K. Ellis, a lawyer, close friend and one-time musical partner of the late Prince Rigo, disclosed Mrs. Gordon had told him she came to this country as a young girl from her native Hungary.

She was only 17 when she was first married—to Casper Emerson, wealthy and socially prominent Philadelphian. They went to Europe and there met Prince Rigo.

The violinist was then the husband of Clara Ward, noted beauty and a Detroit heiress. She had deserted her husband, Prince De Chimay, to roam the world with Rigo.

The gypsy musician and Mrs. Emerson fell in love and, after the Ward fortune had been squandered, they were married.

A new era of lavish living opened for Rigo and his bride. They breakfasted on champagne in elegant homes, with two score servants attending them. Rigo's prodigious earnings were spent with ease.

The violinist, never regarded as a masterful musician but drawing huge crowds through his colorful personality, began to slip. His income dwindled, and with his wife, he established a Hungarian restaurant in New York.

The venture failed and in 1927 Rigo died, leaving his widow penniless. Two years later she married Edward Gordon, former lieutenant governor of Florida, and they moved to a marooned mansion overlooking the Hudson river. The depression swept away the Gordon fortune and he died.

Mrs. Gordon finally was evicted by a foreclosure on the Spaten Dvyl Chateau and she drifted from one Manhattan tenement to another.

When she died, an oil painting of Clara Ward and an old violin, neither worth much, were her only possessions.

GENERAL MOTORS DECLARES EXTRA 50C DIVIDEND

$20,000,000 Will Be Distributed Among Stockholders

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Directors of General Motor Corp. today cut a 50-cent extra dividend.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, said among considerations motivating the payment was that this sum "passing into the channels of active trade, will act as a worthwhile stimulant to business in general."

This is the second of the fruits of recovery for the owners of the approximately 43,500,000 common shares, the first having been a 25-cent-a-share disbursement last December.

Shareholders, however, still see their regular annual disbursements maintained at the depression low of $1, since directors today ordered another regular quarterly disbursement of only 25 cents.

The 50-cent extra, however, is the largest extra since 1923, when 60 cents a share was ordered in addition to the regular payments at the rate of $3 a share annually then prevailing.

The $3 annual basis was cut to $2 in the first quarter of 1932, then to $1 in the next quarter, and the shares have been on a regular $1 annual basis since.

An extra of 25 cents, the first fruits of recovery for the stockholders, was distributed in December of last year.

Wall Street had looked for some extra payment, inasmuch as earnings for the first half of this year amounted to $1.51 a share, or 51 cents in excess of the regular dividend requirement at the $1 basis for the entire year.

Both the 50 cent extra and 25 cent regular will be paid Sept. 12 to stock of record Aug. 16. On the 43,500,000 shares, this means a distribution of more than $32,000,000.

Court Aid Against Governor Floyd B. Olson Strike Order Demanded by Business Men

Boy Starts West To Kill Indians; Trip Interrupted

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Because Harry McCabe's "fighting tools" were too large and numerous to be readily concealed, the "Indians and bad men of the west" may go their way in peace for a while.

A Joliet policeman, encountering the 14-year old self-styled "bad man" near the state penitentiary, noticed his one-legged goose step, and stopped the youth for questioning.

Harry at once outlined his plans for a grand scalping expedition in the "wild and woolly west." A search revealed, beside the rifle, which was stuffed down one trouser's leg, a pocket full of bullets for the gun and a sharp silette.

Police notified his parents.

FDR INSPECTS DAMAGE DONE BY DROUGHT

President Sees And Hears About Heat Wave

By Francis M. Stephenson
Associated Press Staff Writer
En Route With President Roosevelt To Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—In the blistering heat of the parched north-west today, President Roosevelt tackled the drought—a calamity assuming proportions which deeply concerned him and his aides.

Traveling across northern Montana with a late afternoon stop to motor to the federal power and reclamation dam at Fort Peck on the upper Missouri, Mr. Roosevelt saw and heard the results of the withering wave of aridness.

Federal officials boarding the special train assured the president there was no danger of famine, but reported the drought was persistently spreading its devastation.

"We have to provide in the days to come," Mr. Roosevelt told the throng surrounding his train at Havre, Mont., "for the elimination of the causes of not only drought, but of the conditions that come from drought."

On Our Way
"It is going to take a long time to do it, but, as I have said before, I think we are on our way and that you good people understand it and are supporting it."

Lawrence Westbrook, assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, the federal relief administrator, reported upon boarding the presidential special that the drought now extended to 24 states and affected about 26,000,000 persons. He believed more than the $625,000,000 already allocated by the president and congress would be required to meet the problem.

The whole situation gave the president and government officers opportunity to re-emphasize the administration program for redistribution of population to workable territory.

Senator Wheeler of Montana, Governor Cooney and Representative Monaghan traveled across the state with the chief executive and state relief officers joined the drought conference aboard the train.

From his car window, Mr. Roosevelt observed the first reaches of the growing expanse of parched soil barren to all possibilities of producing crops for this year and possibly next year.

Westbrook producers maps showing 60 percent of the United States encompassed in the black area designating the drought region.

But he broke the story of despair to offer the suggestion that, out of all, there was opportunity for good through the movement of folks from places where unproductive region to places where normal conditions offered a better chance of livelihood.

"If we can get this readjustment," he remarked hopefully, "figures may yet be recorded on the right side of the ledger." At least 25 percent of the people on sub-marginal lands of the northwest states were expected to be guided to new places.

The president throughout the all-day ride across northern Montana to Glasgow worked with his aides, principally the drought expert, Westbrook, and Secretary of War Dern, who has charge of river developments.

Secretary Tokes, public works administrator, left the special to continue his studies in the far west.

Two of the president's sons, James and Franklin, also left the train this morning to fly east by regular plane routes. John, the youngest son, continued on with the train.

WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE FIVE CENTS BUSHEL

Other Grains Also Rise To New High Marks

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The steady advance of wheat prices during recent weeks today was accelerated to a gain of almost five cents in a few hours that pushed values above the year's previous peaks established early in June.

Other grains also rose to new high marks of the season as the market here and those in other grain centers were captured by a wave of buying orders inspired by assertions of continued damage to corn and Canadian wheat.

Near Trade Limit
Wheat was lifted to a peak of $1.13 1-2 a bushel for May, up 4 5-8 cents from Saturday's finish, almost to the limit permitted by trading rules. September deliveries hit a top of $1.08 3-8, a cent above the previous year's peak.

All deliveries at the close were off fractions of the high.

Wheat prices are at a new summit not quite as lofty as reached in June, 1933, and far from all time price records, but nevertheless about 34 cents above the season's low figures.

The present bulge, lasting over a period of almost a month during which temporary setbacks were frequent, followed the mid-June price break that came with meager moisture relief over much of the northwestern wheat belt.

The high prices can be attributed largely to the 1934 American crop disaster which the story which is lengthened almost daily. Latest available private estimates indicate a total production of the five major grain crops of only 2,892,000,000 bushels, the smallest American crop since 1894.

Last year the total was greater than this estimate by almost 1,100,000,000 bushels.

The incentive to buy at Chicago today was found in assertions that new havoc was being wrought by high temperatures in much of the corn belt west and south. Reports that the Canadian wheat crop was being damaged further also were received.

Sharp price advances in wheat at Buenos Aires and Rotterdam were noted. Winnipeg and Liverpool markets were closed but wheat values at Minneapolis and Kansas City rose with Chicago, the top for May deliveries at Minneapolis reaching $1.15 3-8. A year ago September wheat at Chicago closed at 98 1-8 cents.

Corn gained 1 3-4 to 2 1-8 cents, down a fraction from the high of 75 cents for September, but 3 1-2 cents from the previous peak. Rye and barley were up about 4 cents and oats advanced 7 3-4 to 3 cents.

STOCKYARDS IN CHICAGO AGAIN IN FULL SPEED

Nearly 60,000 Animals Are Unloaded in Pens on Monday

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Chicago stockyards swung into full speed again today at its old job of putting the midwestern's livestock in at one end and taking out roasts, steaks and chops at the other.

Nearly 60,000 animals were unloaded in the pens as the yards resumed normal operations for the first time since July 24. The 1,200 striking drovers whose dispute was settled late Saturday were back at work, displacing a force of non-union men.

Stockmen, notified Saturday evening that peace had been arranged through the intervention of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, hurried their cattle, sheep and hogs to market. Today, by truck and train, some 27,000 head of steers, cows and calves were delivered along with 25,000 hogs and about 7,000 sheep.

Commission men mounted their horses again and held an ordinary marketing session, selling the stock out to the packers who had been threatened with a shutdown if the strike continued. Because cattle receipts were so high—even though they included 10,000 gained cattle bought by the government in the drought areas—prices slumped a little.

The pullmans in which replacement workers had been quartered drew out Sunday night, and the yards were peaceful today. Under the terms of Gen. Johnson's settlement, the regularly employed drovers were working on a guarantee of at least 48 hours of work a week, on condition that the livestock receipts total 4,000 cars.

"Extra men" were assured of 40 hours of work on the same arrangement.

Government relief officials breathed easier as the yards bustled into activity again. While the government's cattle was "given a pass" during the strike, the tie-up of the yards had imperiled the complete success of the plan to remove thousands of head of nearly starved animals from the blighted plains and turn them into beef for the unemployed.

Primary Elections Today in Missouri, West Virginia and Kansas Will be Heated, Claim

FDR'S ADDRESS MAY DECIDE HIS PARTY'S FUTURE

G. O. P. Independents May Be Absorbed Into New Deal

By Cecil B. Dickson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A definite indication as to how far President Roosevelt will go to hold liberal groups on both major parties is looked for by some observers here from his speech at Green Bay, Wis., Thursday.

There is considerable speculation among Democrats and Republicans alike over the possibility that the chief executive might advance a broad program that will tend to absorb Republican independents and other liberals into the "new deal" democratic party.

They point, in this connection, to statements by Mr. Roosevelt since his return to continental United States, particularly with reference to electrical power and further plans of the "new deal."

The Wisconsin speech is being made in the heart of the northwestern progressive states where Senator LaFollette is up for reelection.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt openly will lend his influence to the Wisconsin Progressive's candidacy in the face of a move by local Democrats to put up their own candidate is something Democratic and Republican leaders, both Conservatives and Liberals, would like to know.

The same thing is true of the candidacy of Senator Cutting, New Mexico Republican Independent, who campaigned for Roosevelt in 1932, and to a degree, perhaps, of Senator Shipstead, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite.

Mr. Roosevelt has let it be known he would like to see Senator LaFollette returned to the Senate in November. Efforts were made by his lieutenants to straighten out the matter with Wisconsin Democrats during his absence, but this has not yet been done.

Thus, the entire matter has been left up to the president. His emissaries have withdrawn to await whatever statement he might make.

Friends of LaFollette, particularly independent Republicans such as Senator Nye of North Dakota, are hopeful the president will put the Wisconsin Senator on the back.

If administration influence is not put back of LaFollette, and perhaps cutting, some of the Independents probably will veer away from suggestions that they align themselves now or later with the Democrats.

The support given by postmaster General Farley to Joseph McKee in his race for Mayor of New York put a damper for a time on talk of a Democratic-Liberal merger and since then some of the Independents have revived talk of a third party.

Mr. Roosevelt believes the national administration should not seek to dictate to a state democracy its selection of Senators and Representatives of Congress. But the Wisconsin Democrats have until the primaries September 18 to select a candidate to oppose LaFollette, and a compromise might not be regarded as dictation.

In Minnesota, Representative Holdrege, a personal and political friend of Mr. Roosevelt, has been nominated by the Democrats to oppose Senator Shipstead. Holdrege polled a large vote in the primaries.

Democrats in New Mexico want to put up their own candidate to oppose Senator Cutting. Representative Chavez, Democratic leader, who was a pre-convention Roosevelt man in 1932, probably will be nominated in the party's state convention in September.

Republican leaders are as much interested in the situation as the Democrats. They say if Mr. Roosevelt comes out in support of Progressive Republicans instead of Democrats, they would be in a position to appeal to Conservative Democrats to support Republicans in other senatorial and congressional contests. They assert Mr. Roosevelt is trying to build a party that will retain the old line Democrats, but one that also will envelop all the Liberals.

NO DANGER OF WAR IN EUROPE COPLEY CLAIMS

Says France Is Only Nation That Could Afford It

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Returning from an automobile tour of Europe, Col. Ira C. Copley, publisher of newspapers in Illinois and California, discounted today the danger of any great war in Europe for several years hence.

It was his belief that no country save France could afford a war and that Adolf Hitler spoke truly today in stating that Germany's policy is pacific. He felt that the English navy would hold France in check.

"There is no danger that Germany will go to war," said Colonel Copley. "Germany has nothing with which to fight, no armament, no raw materials and no money. Germany is furthermore too occupied with her internal troubles for war. Hitler greatly fears that France might attempt to provoke a war in order to seize the land up to the Rhine river, which of course France could take, but that possibility, I feel sure, need not be taken seriously so long as England is strongly opposed to aggression by the French."

England will hold France in check. The great English navy is too powerful for France to dismiss. It could bottle France up in no time. The English have noted the supremacy of France in the air and are embarking on an extensive program of air defense.

Colonel Copley pointed out that when France was not guaranteed the protection of other allied powers in the event of attack by Germany it embarked on a policy of storing up gold as a measure of defense until today France has a tremendous supply of the yellow metal.

Despite the vast amount of gold in France, Colonel Copley said he did not find that country prospering. Conditions in Italy, he declared, to be just under "fair" with the profits from American tourist trade showing a sharp decline. He said Hungary was better off than Italy with most of the people at work and Czechoslovakia even in better shape than Hungary.

Straight Shooting

Night Captain Eugene LaPere of the Belleville police force did some straight shooting in the small hours of Sunday morning, and as a result two robbers are in the morgue. The officer was severely wounded by one of the robbers, but it is thought he will recover. The bandits had kidnapped a taxi driver and were using his cab on a career of crime. They were trying to hold up a restaurant in Belleville when the driver escaped and gave the alarm.

LaPere, who was patrolling the business section, caught the bandits in an alley, shot one of them thru the heart and was using him as a shield to protect himself against the other bandit, whom he shot in the temple. But the second robber managed to shoot the captain in the groin before he was killed.

It is this sort of fighting on the part of policemen that will rid the country of criminals. Men who will kidnap, threaten to kill and rob can expect no mercy from society. They deserve none. Capt. LaPere saved the taxpayers a lot of money by those two good shots and removed two menaces to public safety.

Donkey Baseball

This strange game has become popular in California, and it has netted its first fatality in Pasadena, where a member of one team was killed at first base when he was thrown from his donkey. The batter hits the ball and then rides his donkey for the base, while he endeavors to make before the fielder, also mounted, can throw the ball in.

The Pasadena man was thrown three times, and on reaching the base, was thrown again and suffered a fracture of his spine. It seems a stupid way to lose a life, playing donkey baseball. It is a mockery of the great American game, which is perhaps one of the safest sports known.

Yet the game that has gained such popularity is no more dangerous than polo, in which fatal accidents sometimes happen. Games into which enter elements of great risks should be played by professionals, and not by amateurs, if loss of life is to be prevented.

No sport is entirely safe, and neither for that matter, is any occupation. But men who have occupations by which they support their families might well avoid unnecessary risks in recreation.

Winter Forage Crops

Farmers who are wondering where they are to get feed for stock this winter, and especially during the fall months, have been advised to sow grain. Wheat can be used for fall pasture, and also rye. Oats and barley can be used in the more southern regions.

If the grain is sown thick, it will form a thick turf and prevent tramping of the soil in wet weather and will also be sufficiently luxuriant to go thru the winter and make a good grazing crop in the spring.

It seems strange to use grain for this purpose, but the drought has brought an emergency which must be met in any way that will serve the purpose. Many farmers have been forced to turn their stock into the hay fields, because pastures are dead. If they sow something that will make green feed this fall, they will be helped that much in their fight against the drought.

Despite the claim that weather comes in cycles, it seems that the climate of our middle west region is growing hotter and drier. Water is becoming an important commodity everywhere. The situation may result in a change in farming methods and the adoption of plans never before used.

Communications

The Constitution

Editorial Journal.

It was certainly patriotic presumption when, at Waverly, Mr. W. E. Wright made a feint political gesture at saving the Constitution. The Constitution was saved and preserved for all time in 1924 by that great and chief of all Constitution savers, General Charles G. Dawes, with emphasis on the "General," and not to mention the eighty million dollars that his bank borrowed from the R.F.C., and of which a large part remains unpaid. In 1924 Robert M. La Follette was a candidate for President. His campaign was prophetic, he showed clearly the condition of our country, foretold the impending disaster, assailed the banking and speculative interests and exposed the motives and methods of these super patriots. He bitterly assailed our financial system to which this new crop of Constitution Savers' would have us return.

The best is better. What have they to say of the present and future?

Calling their attention to a question that is of much greater interest and importance to the people, than orating about bogey destroyers of the Constitution, let us consider the banking system that almost wrecked our country, and for which the sponsors of their propaganda and doctrine were responsible. The people have suffered death, sickness, hunger, privation and every conceivable form of inconvenience from an unfair, improper, selfish and mal-administered banking system. To be more specific, the banking laws of a state in which a National Bank is located are the laws that determine the conduct of that National Bank. Therefore, what explanation have some of the gentlemen who were present and helping Mr. Wright save the Constitution, of the Illinois State Treasurer Act. Their party for years was the party in power and responsible for the enactment and administration of this piece of legislation that ultimately wrecked this community.

I have learned from experience that political faiths have but little binding power when the money question is involved. The present Democratic administration pledged their party to put teeth in the Illinois Banking Laws and they did: Teeth to aid in further devouring the misguided and beguiled depositors, by amending the State Treasurer's Act, they are now prepared to give us the quick finish. (See Laws of Illinois, Fifty-eighth General Assembly, 1935, page 1109.)

The Ayers National Bank closure is a mal-odorous affair and will not be down by political camouflage and high-natted bureaucracy, and such matters in governmental experience do more to destroy general confidence in governmental integrity and justice than all the orating about destroying the government could do in a century.

The facts regarding this Bank are so well known that I need not discuss them. Also, what has transpired since the Bank closed, has not filled this patriotic community with respect and confidence in governmental efficiency and justice. We call upon those who are now in power to aid us in securing an investigation of this whole matter by the United States Senate Banking Committee as was done in New York and Detroit.

We also ask them, if elected, to pledge their votes and support to the McLeod, or a similar bill that will aid in a degree in securing justice for all depositors. This is a proper subject for discussion in the court of public opinion, just so long as we conform our statements to something like the facts and after twenty months of discussion and inquiry, we are still unable to understand why a bank with more than seven million dollars in admitted resources, by the United States Treasury Department is able to pay less than three hundred thousand dollars to the so called unsecured depositors.

Very respectfully,
Edward Bowe.

Editorial Journal:

Sir: You may at some time have been disturbed over certain publications in the "Colored man" but in the past crisis of war, as during the present efforts made by man to overthrow our government, one is struck by the loyalty he has shown as a whole. It is a quality deep in his nature to be faithful. Even the White South remembers from the days of 1861, how the colored man fought for the principle that denied him freedom, and the trust was never betrayed.

Men of all countries and races are learning this lesson from his failure to unite in revolutionary propaganda. The following quotation from the Southern Associated Press is a fair example of colored man's reaction to Red Suggestion: "He has never carried a red flag, and has never thrown a bomb, nor wrecked a railroad train; he has never joined in any Bolshevik movement, and what is more to the point, he never will when he should. A gun it will be on behalf of law and order directed by his government. Are we then asking too much of the powers that be to generously open their hearts in support of the Campaign just launched in the interest of Bethel A.M.E. Church which stands as the medium through which the principles of Christian Civilization flows both in French, British Africa, West Indies, Central and South America, United States and Dominion of Canada."

We believe that the moral and material prosperity of the colored man depends upon the moral and economic development of its entire people; what ever may be done from without, the centre of activity must be within.

We ask your cooperation in aiding this development, by giving encouragement and publicity to the constructive work done by our churches and other organizations.

Our work is done in no spirit of boastfulness, or of self-satisfaction—we are aware of shadows, the sinister influence in the lives of both races, but we believe the good outweighs the evil and deserves cultivation, which will help in building up a better understanding between the races, and if you cooperate with us in our efforts, it will encourage our own people to similar actions and will further the interest of both races.

Rev. Wm. F. Seay,

Pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church.

Ralph Thomas Weds Miss Mildred Rich

White Hall, Aug. 6.—Miss Mildred Rich, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Rich, and Ralph Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Thomas, all of White Hall were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, on Carrollton street, in the presence of about fifty relatives and close friends. Mrs. Russell McMahon sang a group of songs, "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Merle Mackey played Lohengrin's Wedding March by Wagner as the bride party descended the stairway and approached the altar arranged with a canopy of gladioli and ferns, and took their places beneath a large white wedding veil. Rev. A. E. C. Pentland, pastor of the Methodist church in Manchester and former pastor of the White Hall Methodist church, read the single ring ceremony, at three o'clock, Mrs. Mackey played "I Love You Truly," very softly during the service. There were no attendants. A reception followed the ceremony.

The bride wore white mouseline de soie with a veil of tulle, three quarter length, and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Her going away costume was a light blue silk crepe suit with white accessories.

After a short wedding trip they will return and go to housekeeping in a home already prepared on Douglas street.

The bride is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rich and graduated from the White Hall High school. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and after graduating from White Hall High school studied for one year in the St. Louis university, since which time he has assisted in the Thomas grocery, and is now employed at the Klump Filling station on North Main street.

The New Deal in Washington

Roosevelt Demands Definite Plan to Settle Russian Trade and Debt Tangle... Subordinates Muddle the Matter... Japan Keeps Eagle Eye on Developments.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 6.—The real reason for sudden resumption of Russian debt negotiations here was a demand by Roosevelt that a definite plan of settlement be submitted to him on his return from his trip.

The real reason he isn't likely to get what he asked for is a sad lack of co-ordination during his absence. Too many tantrums in the New Deal nursery!

The real stumbling block in Soviet debt and trade negotiations is that the two nations are playing a game of "You did" and "We didn't." Just to reveal the hidden background before bringing the story up to date.

Three men sat in the president's oval study last November and made verbal promises on which Russian recognition and the promise of expanded trade were based. The three were Roosevelt, Bill Bullitt, now ambassador to Moscow, and Maxim Litvinov, the Russian negotiator.

Nothing was put in writing. No other person was present. Litvinov remembered and reported a promise that the U. S. S. R. would receive immediate trade credits and later a loan through which it could pay off a lump sum settlement to be agreed on.

Snags Block Agreement

Roosevelt and Bullitt remember nothing of the sort. While Bullitt was negotiating in Moscow handicapped by this conflict of memory, Assistant Secretary of State Moore—who is hostile to the U. S. S. R.—led other directors of the Export-Import Bank set up for Russia in debt credits to promise no credits until Russia made a settlement pact.

That piece of bad co-ordination made the Russians sore and hampered negotiations. Roosevelt recently became impatient and transferred the negotiations here. The State Department might be having more success now if Foreign Trade Adviser George N. Peek and the Labor Department hadn't started throwing rocks through the window which landed plop on the conference table between Secretary Hull and Ambassador Troyanovsky.

Outbursts Anger Hull

Hull, sincerely anxious for Russian trade despite his violent anti-Soviet subordinates, was angry when Peek blurted publicly and pointedly that his Export-Import Bank would extend trade credit to all foreign countries—including defaulters—except Russia.

He was further irritated when the Labor Department let it leak out that it planned to send W. W. Husband to Moscow to arrange for deportation of Russian aliens, the implication being that we would make Russia take back a lot of Communists.

Both blurs were sure to incense the Russians and embarrass Hull's negotiations. To date, Hull has neither okayed the Labor Department's suggestion that Husband be sent to Moscow as a special adviser to Bullitt, nor admitted that he ever saw Peek's statement.

Concessions Are Essential

Moscow and Washington will have to compromise, if Hull is to show Roosevelt an agreed plan in the near future. Russia will have to give up the idea of any cash loan from us in the near future, much as she wants it for the sake of prestige at home and abroad—and especially for its effect on Japan.

Roosevelt well knows the protest such a loan would arouse in this country at this time. One suspects that he sparred and kidded about it at the secret three-man conference.

and possibly gave vague, far-off assurances which Litvinov ministered to.

On the other hand, Russia will not accept our present position that she must make a lump sum agreement before she gets any credits. The obvious fact-saving compromise here is one which would start Russia as soon as she agreed to help set up machinery for adjudication and settlement of debts and claims—which might take years.

Japan Keeps Close Watch

Japan watches all this like a hawk. Convinced last year that the United States and Russia had reached a firm rapprochement, she backed down from some of her strong gestures against Russia—even abandoning a scheduled war, according to some stories.

Russia thereupon adopted a firmer attitude toward Japan, which she still maintains. Japanese diplomats didn't foresee the Russian-American impasse and are now chagrined, feeling they fooled themselves. They don't know which way the cat will jump now; but they noted carefully that Roosevelt definitely refrained from saying anything nice about the Japanese which he was in Hawaii.

He refrained despite the fact, just between us girls, that Japanese diplomats here had deceived correspondents with a fake story that he wanted to meet Japanese statesmen on Hawaiian soil.

If that was an attempt to force his hand, it failed signally—and again demonstrated the obtuseness of Japanese diplomacy.

BIRD GETS OUT OF GILDED CAGE; MAN PLACED BEHIND BARS

A bird got out of a what may have been a gilded cage, and a man got behind the bars of what was not a gilded cage in a series of events over the week-end.

Mrs. Anthony Berschneider reported to police Sunday that some man came up on her porch and removed a canary from a cage in which it was enjoying a sunbath. She thought she knew the man who removed the canary, and the police went on a hunt. They found him. He is said to be John Oakley. Oakley denied he knew anything about the bird for some time, but when police kept him in the lock-up, he said he thought he could find the bird. The police accompanied him to the old carshops where Oakley led them to a tin can.

Perched just outside the can and with great open spaces all around was the bird. Officer Howard Stout reached down and picked up the bird, and then took Oakley back to the city lock-up and the bird to its gilded cage. Oakley declares that a pal of his put the bird in the can. Oakley was released Monday noon because no charges were made.

A Prosperous Appearance

New Discovery Routs Body Odor Leaves No M.S.

(Medicine Small)

Science has made a new discovery about body odor. It is caused by stale perspiration curds, and requires deep-pore cleansing. It cannot be ended by ordinary soaps, because their sluggish lathers cannot reach into the pores and cleanse them. Instead the soap combines with the waste material and forms clogging curds!

Kirk's Coco Castle soap works in an entirely different way. No matter how hard the water, this 100% pure vegetable oil soap breaks instantly into a searching, bubbly lather. This bubbly lather cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded stale perspiration curds—then rinses out completely, and in a flash, thus it ends body odor at its source!

Delightful to use, Kirk's Coco Castle is entirely free from M.S. (medicine smell)—leaves your body as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze! A big generous cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is now selling at the lowest price in history! Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castle by name—at your grocer's.

AT THE TOP OF THE HEAP IN TENNIS! That is the enviable position of Ellsworth Vines, Jr., the spectacular young Pasadena athletic star who holds the U. S. National Championships for 1931 and 1932, and has now swept through the 1934 professional ranks as well!

YOU'LL enjoy this pleasing "Energizing Effect —"

When you've used up your energy at work or play—smoke a Camel and notice how soon you feel your flow of natural energy snap back.

This experience, long known to Camel smokers, has now been confirmed by a famous New York research laboratory. Camel smokers enjoy a positive "energizing effect" ... a healthful and delightful release of natural, vibrant energy. Millions have found this to be true. A typical Camel experience is this, Ellsworth Vines, Jr. speaking—

"Championship tennis is one of the fastest of modern sports. After four or five sets, you sometimes feel that you just can't take another step. That's when a Camel tastes like a million dollars. Not only does the rich, mellow fragrance appeal to my taste, but Camels have a refreshing way of bringing my energy up to a higher level. And I can smoke all the Camels I want, for they don't interfere with my nerves."

So, whenever you want a "lift," just smoke a Camel. You can smoke them steadily. For the finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS in Camels never get on your nerves.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Howard Kessie of Alton played the Lohengrin Wedding March, and Rev. W. R. Johnson, pastor of the Roodhouse Baptist church read the single ring ceremony. Rev. Mr. Johnson married the bride's parents. Yeda Hess and Ray Fraser twenty-four years ago last October.

The bride was attended by Misses Evelyn Rose and Cleta King of White Hall and the groom by Lynn Hess of St. Louis and Paul Pentem of Roodhouse. The bride wore tan lace and carried pink tea roses.

SEEK APPOINTMENT OF TRUSTEE IN SUIT FOR MONEY NOW IN BANK

Appointment of Mrs. Carrie Strang as trustee of a sum of money willed to Cary F. Strang, of Murrayville, a minor, is sought in a suit filed by Cary F. Strang et al. against Edgar E. Crabtree, receiver of the Murrayville State bank.

The suit alleges that Cary F. Strang was made the beneficiary of a $100 bequest in the will of Ann Augusta Irsell in 1923, to be paid to him on his 21st birthday with accrued interest. The papers also state that the executor of the estate deposited the $100 in the Murrayville State bank as requested in the will, and that the bank closed February 16, 1933.

In view of the bank's condition, the suit asks the court to render a judgment in the sum of nearly $150, and that the mother, Mrs. Carrie Strang, be appointed as trustee to administer the bequest until Cary Strang becomes of legal age.

"Takin' cream to Swift's"

"Where you going, Sonny?"
"Goin' to Swift's, Mother."

To Sonny, Swift's is a household name, for his father takes butterfat and eggs to Swift & Company regularly, at least several times each week.

Swift & Company produce plants buy eggs, poultry and cream of good quality, for cash, every work day in the year.

These foods are marketed as Swift's Brookfield Butter and Eggs, and Swift's Premium Milk-fed Chickens and Golden West Milk-fed Fowl.

The same Swift & Company salesmen, who sell beef, pork, lamb and other meats, also sell butter, eggs, poultry and cheese.

Instead of a dozen trucks being used for the delivery of a dozen products to a store, the same truck is used to deliver all products to a store.

This marketing plan lowers distribution costs. Over a period of years, Swift & Company's net profits from all sources have been only a fraction of a cent per pound.

OWEN P. THOMPSON WINS SINGLES IN WATERLOO MEET

Defeats Champion in Four Sets of Five Set Final Match for City Championship—Will Enter Association Tournament

Owen Perry Thompson, Jacksonville singles champion two years ago, Sunday won the singles championship of the Waterloo, Iowa tournament, according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, of West College avenue. Thompson competed in the first four Journal-Courier tennis championships before coming through with a city championship here two years ago, giving up the title now worn by Elmer Lukeman, by default.

Thompson lost his first set in the championship match of the Waterloo tournament, 2-6, but stormed through Joe Welsmann for three straight set victories, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4. Thompson was forced to go four sets in the semi-final, defeating Lyle Crane 7-5, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 to enter the finals. He had to go the limit in the quarter-finals, defeating Berry 1-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Owen has been working in Waterloo for the past two years and has been one of the top ranking players in that city since taking a position there. His victory in this year's Waterloo tournament entitles him to enter the Iowa district Tennis Association tournament to be played later.

WASHINGTON WINS OVER CINCINNATI

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Washington Printers won their second straight game in the Union Printers International baseball championship tournament today, defeating Cincinnati 16 to 1 at the Yankee stadium. The defeat was the first setback in two games for the Ohio nine.

While Stieringer was holding Cincinnati to seven scattered hits, the Capital City boys landed on Heany, Christie and Caton for 17 safe blows. Each team was charged with two errors.

HOLE IN ONE

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—For twenty years Ray Evans, captain's secretary at a Chicago police station, has been trying to make a hole in one. Yesterday he did it. Today he wishes he hadn't. Because he wanted to play golf, he had wired his wife at Lake Geneva he couldn't join her "because of business."

Now what'll I do when she hears about that hole in one? Ray wonders glumly.

EASY ACES WALLOP BAPTIST CHURCH 9

The Easy Aces trounced the Baptist Church nine in the YMCA league last evening by a score of 23 to 5, never being pushed in the one-sided victory.

The game between the Journal-Courier team and the Jacksonville Eagles was called on account of darkness and probably will be played over. Lineups, Easy Aces—Fernandes, 3b; G. Coffman, rf; D. SAME OLD BOYS MAKE HEADLINES

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Ten years ago the sports headlines were full of these names—Dempsey, Ruth, Hagen, Tilden, Grimes, Johnson, Hitchcock, Willis, Jones, Hoyt.

They've been in the headlines again during the past few weeks. Dempsey, man killer of the ring, is the father of a baby girl. Ruth isn't hitting 300. Walter Hagen is being honored by a testimonial golf tournament at Rochester. Bill Tilden rates second to Ellsworth Vines in pro tennis. Burleigh Grimes, last of the spit ball pitchers, is released by the Yankees. Walter Johnson is ill with pleurisy in a Cleveland hospital.

Tommy Hitchcock is slipping as a great polo player. Helen Willis Moody won't play in the National tennis championships.

Only two breast the tide sweeping away the heroes of a decade ago. Bobby Jones shot a 62 for the best 18 holes of his career. Walter Hoyt, the New York school boy wonder of 12 years ago, is pitching as again for the Pirates.

RAIN FRIGHTENS K. C. CHAMPS; FAIL TO COME

Rain Sunday in Springfield, reported to have come down in large quantities, frightened away the Knights of Columbus team, champions of a recent tournament in Springfield. They were booked to meet the Jacksonville Indians Sunday on the Nichols park diamond, but assumed that if it was raining in Springfield, it must be raining in Jacksonville.

Frank Smith had his Indians ready for the game, but dismissed his team about 2:30 when he learned over long distance telephone that the Springfield team had not left for Jacksonville.

A Springfield tennis team, scheduled for a match with the Jacksonville tennis club, also failed to appear yesterday, probably for the same reason.

LOU GEHRIG IS CLOUTING HOMERS

By Edward J. Neil Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—If you see an ambitious young ball player deliberately trying to get his head in the way of somebody's fast one, don't send for the man with the butterfly net. The young fellow may only be seeing the secret of Lou Gehrig's phenomenal home run hitting spurt.

The burly iron man of the majors has 36 homers to his credit today, and he stands five days ahead of the pace Babe Ruth set in 1927 when he popped exactly 60. Lou has hit six in the seven games of the Yankees' home stand at the stadium. Not content with homers alone, he has lifted his batting average 20 points to .383 in that short time.

Going back to June 29 for the possible cause of it all, Gehrig was parked peacefully at the plate in an exhibition game in Norfolk, Va., when Ray White, young right hand farm hand of the Yankees, lost control of his hard high one. The ball banged off Lou's durable skull and he went for a long count.

Most people would have come up with a brain concussion at least, but instead Lou came up with three triples in the next big league game, with the Washington Senators two days later. Instead of a head full of cobwebs, he had an eye like Dan'l Boone and a heart full of malice toward all pitchers. He's been a hitting machine ever since.

"It didn't do me any good at the time," says Lou ruefully, still rubbing a spot in memory. "But it couldn't have done me any harm."

The figures bear him out. He had 20 home runs when White beamed him. Five days more than a month have elapsed since, and in that time he has hit sixteen more. The fastest pace even Ruth ever set was in September of 1927 when he busted 16 in the closing month to set his great record.

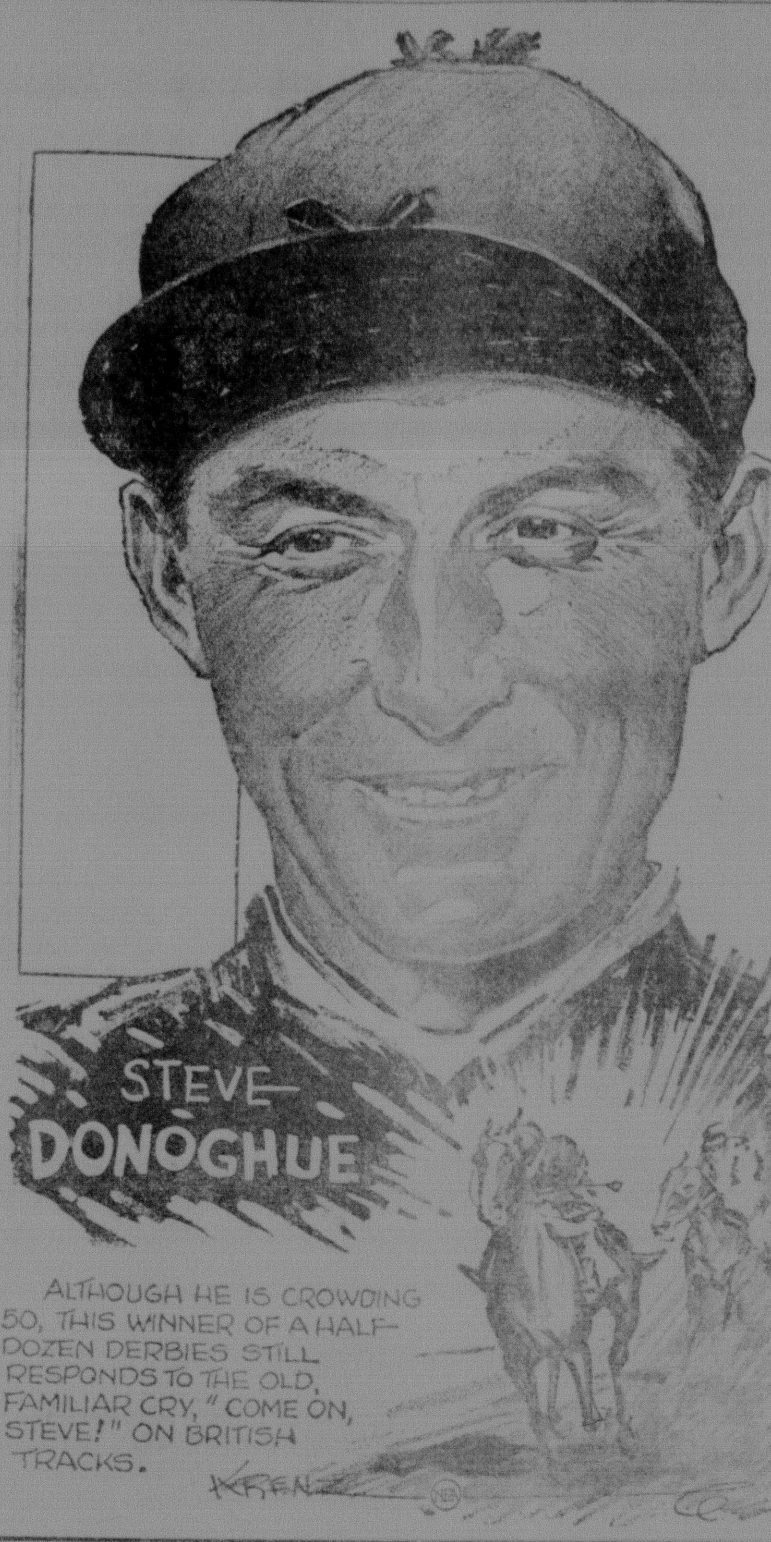

Lou's big fear is that some one will beat Jimmie Foxx, who has 34 with the same kind of ball that nicked him.

CARROLLTON BEATS KANE BY 6-5 SCORE

Carrollton, Aug. 6.—The Carrollton Merchants baseball nine defeated Kane Sunday at Greene's Park here, one lost mostly thru errors. Plummer, third baseman, who has been playing in semi-pro clubs for years, made a bunch of costly errors which practically lost the game for his team.

Next Sunday Carrollton Merchants play the St. Louis Stars, the fastest colored baseball nine in the state of Missouri.

YANKEE TRACKMEN CAPTURE HONORS

Oslo, Aug. 6.—(AP)—America's touring athletes swept through the final day of the International track and field meet today, winning seven events as big Ben Eastman, former Stanford middle distance star, and Percy Beard, New York A. C. hurdler, bettered world records.

Eastman raced 400 meters in 1:02 as compared to the listed world record of 1:03 made in 1929 by E. Tavenard of Italy. Beard, sprinting over the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.2 seconds, not only bettered the listed world mark of 14.4, shared by George Salting, Iowa, E. Wennstrom, Sweden, and B. Sjostedt, Finland, but shaved one-tenth of a second from the time of 14.3 seconds made by Johnny Morris, Louisiana State, in the last national championships.

Princeton's Bill Bonthron, holder of the world record for 1,500 meters, won his specialty in 3:54.4, nearly six seconds slower than the mark of 3:49.8 he made in the Nationals.

Glen Hardin of Louisiana State raced to victory in the 300 meters in 33.5 seconds, Eulace Peacock, Temple University freshman, won the 100-meter dash in 10.3. Bob Kane, Cornell University quarter-miler, stepped the 400 meters in 47.9 to win his event, and Cornelius Johnson, of Compton, Calif., Junior College, ledler 1.93 meters (6 feet, 4 in.) to win the high jump. After taking the event he cleared two meters (6 feet 6.3 in.).

JOCKEYS RIDE THREE WINNERS

By Orlo Robertson Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Dominating the New York racing program as few jockeys have this year, Silvio Council and Don Meade swept the card at Saratoga today, each riding three winners.

Council, contract rider for Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable, put together his triple with H. Oliver's Fidelis, the B. B. stable's General Farley and Mrs. Henry Ughetta's deduce, winner of the Burnt Hills handicap. General Farley and Deduce were 7 to 2 shots while Fidelis was well backed at 13 to 5.

Meade led the field home in the second with E. R. Bradley's Bird Flower at 12 to 1, won the third with R. L. Gerry's chancing at 2 to 1 and accounted for the closing event with the 8 to 1 shot, F. J. Vallee's Primitie.

The honors at Narragansett were shared by the Wheatley stable's three-year old Carry Over and Hal Price Headale's Kentucky-owned Fort Springs. Carry Over came through in the mile dash for three-year olds, scoring by a length over Elf Lock while Fort Springs came from behind to take a neck decision from Black-bird in a six-furlong sprint for two-year olds.

Both Carry Over and Fort Springs were lightly regarded, the former paying $12.50 and the latter, $21.50.

Royal Gold, best of the barns of Dubbs and Rummels, beat Male in a scant head in the six and one-half furlong race at Hawthorne. Male, the choice, jumped into an early lead but dropped back when a leg bandage came loose and dragged in the mud. He lost the bandage 50 yards from the finish but was unable to overhaul Royal Gold, which paid $24.50 for each $2 straight ticket.

An outsider also won the feature race at Detroit when Dancing Spirit from the Elmire stable and paying $15.00 closed with a rush to beat Del's Delight by a head. The race was run over five and one-half furlongs in 1:03.3.

Defeats City Champion in Four Sets to Take Title in Final Match of 7th Annual

"Jett" Sunderland, Jacksonville's automatic tennis machine that sets a production pace and never loses it, defeated Elmer Lukeman, city champion for the second straight year in the burning sun at the Mackinay College courts to take the title out of the city for the first time in the history of the tournament. The scores were 10-8, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

Moving only when he was certain he could return the ball, striking his shots with seeming carelessness, but with the utmost accuracy, Sunderland seemed to be a stone wall. Everything Lukeman put across the net seemed to bounce back, and it was only in the third set when Lukeman speeded up his game, that the city champion was able to show a decided edge over the Jerseyville automaton.

Sunderland played with almost robot-like speed. He used a forehand drive, a back hand stroke, and a few times a lob, mingling these with a net game that was almost invincible because of his long reach and quickness. Lukeman on the other hand, was unable to show the same early game he has exhibited in the past. Sunderland crowded him up a few times to put over points in crucial moments.

The Jerseyville Number One player took home the last of the Journal-Courier medals, winning two during the series which finished with yesterday's match. He also won the gold medal for the district singles, entitling him to the match with the city champion for the Open medal. Kestinger and Thomas of White Hall won the gold medals in the doubles division of the tournament. Lukeman and Moriarty winning silver medals for finishing in the runner-up position. Lukeman also won the Journal-Courier gold medal for the city championship and got his second consecutive victory for the Bellini cup, Bob Hannum winning the runner-up medal.

Too Many Comebacks. Sunderland was filled with comebacks. He kept trying the ball back across the net, playing to the corners and giving Lukeman a hard run. The city champ anticipated most of these shots, but the continual effort he was called upon to make to return difficult angle shots told on him through the match.

Losses by Five Points. A compilation of the points scored during the match shows that Lukeman lost only five points more than he won. The total point record was 147 won by Sunderland and 142 won by Lukeman. It was Sunderland's ability to shove through points when he needed them that won the victory, while Lukeman won a greater average in the set he won 6-2 than Sunderland won in any of his sets.

From the outset the match was a battle with both players showing their usual careful game. There was nothing to indicate the ultimate victory so closely were the two players staying together on points. Service meant nothing, for neither player attempted to ace his opponent. They were intent only on getting the ball in play.

For a time in the opening set Lukeman appeared to have the edge, losing the first game and then winning the next four. Sunderland broke the rush on his own service, and then tied the set at four all. The games were halved until the score stood at seven all, where Sunderland again broke through to win a game. Lukeman appeared to have the edge, losing the first game and then winning the next four. NOW A TRAIN GROWS WINGS

Advocates of the "air train" for the development of commercial aviation have proved their idea feasible, although bad weather halted the initial flight at Philadelphia. The three "cars," motorless gliders, loaded with 100 pounds of mail for Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, are shown as they took off from Floyd Bennett Field, New York, attached by thin steel cables to the airplane "locomotive." One glider was scheduled to land at each city on the route, the "locomotive plane" making a non-stop flight to Washington.

AFRAID OF POLICE. RUNS TOO FAST

Chicago, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Frank Patsy, 40, complained frequently to authorities that the floodlights of an all-night filling station across the street from his house kept him awake. Authorities were powerless to aid him so Patsy decided early today to act for himself. He climbed to the roof of his house and started hurling rocks at the lights in an effort to extinguish them.

The station attendant called police, who found Patsy, dead, in a courtyard at the side of the house. He had seen the attendant place the call and tried to scramble down so quickly that he fell.

FRANKLIN MAN FINED ON CHARGE ASSAULT, BATTERY

Hardin Whitlock, of Franklin, who made an unsuccessful attempt for freedom was assessed a fine of fifty dollars and costs yesterday afternoon when arraigned in the court of Justice A. B. Opperman on a charge of assault and battery.

The complaint was made by the wife of the defendant, Corrine Whitlock. Witnesses for the plaintiff testified that the defendant was drunk on Sunday and badly beat up his wife, breaking one of the lens in her glasses, cutting one of her eyes and giving her a general mauling.

Whitlock was caught Sunday night after he attempted to flee the Moscan county jail amid a hail of bullets fired by constables from Franklin who brought the man to the local jail.

Whitlock was arrested after he was said to have assaulted his wife with his fists. He was brought to this city by a constable Jim Woods and W. C. Harl, of Franklin.

Whitlock made a dash for liberty when one of the persons at the jail opened a door to get him a drink of water. He fled into the street, pursued by the arresting officers, and refused to stop when commanded to do so.

Five or six shots were fired from 30 caliber pistols in an effort to check his flight, but none of them struck the mark. The officers continued the chase and re-captured Whitlock when he lost a shoe at the rear of the Loggans blacksmith shop. He was returned to jail to await action which was brought against him by Justice A. B. Opperman's court yesterday.

Maybe It's Drouth; Snakes Found Here in Home Basements

Maybe it's the drouth, but what ever it is, residents of at least two Jacksonville homes are hoping that the condition which caused some excitement recently will be removed.

Reports have been received from two residents of the city that snakes have been found in the basements of their homes.

The drouth and heat wave which has passed over this region has been blamed. It is believed that the snakes have been unable to find cool, damp places in which to take their eggs, and have resorted to entering basements.

None of the snakes were of the poisonous variety.

BELLEVILLE POLICE SEEK TO IDENTIFY TWO SLAIN BANDITS

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 6.—(P)—Belleville officials today sought to identify the bodies of two cruising bandits shot and killed by Police Captain Eugene Le Pere early yesterday as they fled from a taxi cab they had commandeered, ostensibly to use in a robbery.

Captain Le Pere was wounded by one of the pair in a running gun fight that ended in their death. The officer's condition was not critical.

The fatal gun fight started when Schuerich, who had been held captive in his own taxi for five hours, jumped from the cab and shouted to the officer, standing at a nearby corner. At the time Schuerich escaped one of his captors was in a restaurant. He said he had heard the men discuss plans to rob it.

Captain Le Pere, attracted by shouts from Schuerich, ran to the cab and the men fled together. After chasing them several blocks the men separated and one of them fired a shot at the officer wounding him in the leg. Firing at the man ahead of him Captain Le Pere killed him instantly. He then turned the gun on the second man, fatally wounding him.

Money earned selling small articles kept Rogers in clothes, provided a cheap, but clean room and kept him happy. Every street car conductor knew him. They saw to it that he always got off at the right corner. In the streets and on the sidewalks, Joe seldom needed help.

After 20 years of feeling his way through heavy traffic without an accident, Joe last night started up the narrow stairway to his room. His cane slipped. He fell and fractured his ankle.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER XLII

But according to Kim's mother there was nothing right about the whole affair.

She returned from Florida two weeks after Mary Faith had gone back to work, and she came straight to Mrs. Puckett's where Mary Faith was established with the baby.

It was late on Saturday afternoon and the old house was filled with the warm and comfortable odor of baked pork-and-beans that Mrs. Puckett always had for dinner on Saturday night.

There was a wood fire burning in the parlor and Mary Faith sat on the rug in front of it, showing little Kim a box of wooden animals, when the door bell rang.

She heard Mrs. Puckett go lumbering into the dark hall to answer it, and then the sound of her full round voice and

Water Supply Is Not Alarming Council Is Told by Superintendent

An estimated four hundred million gallons of water remain in Lake Mauvaisterre, source of the city's water supply, and at the present daily rate of consumption will last about three hundred days was the report made to the City Council at the regular meeting last evening. George L. Stoldt, superintendent of the city light plant, reported that a survey was made of the lake yesterday and based his estimate on the soundings which were made.

Russel Begins Term; Dunlap To Go Today

Former Bank Officers To Begin Prison Sentences

Andrew Russel, former official of the defunct Aven National bank was taken to the Michigan penitentiary where he will begin sentence of 18 months on a charge of misappropriation of funds of the closed bank, and M. F. Dunlap, former president of the bank, will begin his trip to the Penitentiary, Kansas, today, to begin sentence on the same charge. Both were recently sentenced to serve 18 months each, and a two year sentence was imposed upon Dunlap recently in federal court on another charge. Dunlap's sentence will be served concurrently.

Russel left Springfield early Monday morning in custody of United States Marshal Paul G. Ruppel, by automobile, for Milan, Michigan, where he will be incarcerated. Dunlap is to be taken to the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, today, and will be taken to Leavenworth, either during the afternoon or Wednesday.

Russel surrendered to the court early Monday morning, and left with the United States marshal after a few preliminaries. A stay of execution, granted at the time sentence was passed, expires today. The two former friends, and now said to be bitter enemies, sought a few weeks to get their business affairs in order before leaving for federal prisons.

Both Russel and Dunlap were sentenced to a term of eighteen months on a general indictment which contained twelve counts on their withdrawal of a former plea of not guilty and entering a plea of nolo contendere.

In the case of Dunlap he will not be entitled to ask for a parole until he has served eight months, owing to the fact that he was convicted on another charge at a previous trial. In the case of Russel, he is eligible to parole at the end of six months.

The Department of Justice directed that Dunlap should be confined in the penitentiary at Leavenworth and Russel in the federal jail detention headquarters. The Milan jail, detention headquarters, receives only men under short term sentences while the penitentiary at Leavenworth houses all classes of criminals.

Neither Dunlap or Russel wanted to be taken to the same penitentiary. The decision of the Department of Justice to send them to separate places was pleasing to both.
